

Event Speaker Biography

Anna Delibasheva

Deputy Director General, National Employment Agency, Bulgaria

For more than 15 years, she has been working on the topics related to the labour market, such as labour supply and demand. During this period, she held various expert and managerial positions in different Directorates of the Employment Agency. She specializes in developing labour market policies, managing programs and measures to promote employment, and managing European funds and international projects. She is currently the Director of the “Analysis, Monitoring and Planning” Directorate.

She holds three master’s degrees in economics, engineering and international relations.