Multi-country project on the spotlight: "Cooperative Compliance programme in Belgium and Poland"

Background

Belgium

The Belgian Large Enterprises (LE) Administration launched its CTCP as a pilot in the fall of 2018. 8 groups of large taxpayers (together they represent around 40 to 50 companies) have participated, whereas the target situation involves an annual increase of 5 groups (up to 50 groups in total).

Poland

The Polish National Revenue Administration launched its CTCP for the largest taxpayers in Poland on July 1, 2020. The pilot is expected to last 3 years with the participation of 19 companies. The Program is dedicated to taxpayers with a tax income of over EUR 50 million and therefore approx. 2,700 entrepreneurs and tax capital groups.

Background

The beginning

Initially, two national projects run in parallel in Belgium and Poland, both focused on the area of cooperative compliance.

- Member States involved: Belgium & Poland
- Objectives of the projects:
 - building new relationships with large taxpayers, in particular through strengthening soft skills in the Administration and creating awareness among taxpayers;
 - implementing a Tax Control Framework and related co-operative compliance assessment techniques;
 - exchanging good practices and experience in large taxpayers functions as regards cooperative compliance with experts from specialised units of other EU Member States' administrations and academia.

Pathway from national project to a follow-up multicountry request

Understanding common needs

Communication, communication, communication

- Both countries have a similar goal
- Both projects have similar needs and expected results
- Both projects came to the same conclusions from the pilot phase

The breaking point – communication and identification that together we can achieve desired results, with much more value-added and lower cost.

Cooperation between the MS

Let's try to do something together...

- Instead of making the same analysis in parallel...
- Instead of asking other countries the same questions...
- Instead of ordering the same service twice...

We decided to benefit from our experience and appreciate the partners' approach

The submission

Transitioning from national reform projects to a multi-country reform project

- Preparing an original draft of the project (single country project)
- Discussing issues important for each other
- Identify "things in common" and discuss importance of "the differences"
 - Common things first
 - Differences on a side

Important: be available and be flexible

The role of DG REFORM

Benefits from the cooperation

Overcoming challenges together – The added value

The project is just about to start, but...

- We already have direct cooperation with other MS who has the same problems and (possibly found a solution)
- We had to reconsider our initial approach and found weak points
- Learned how to prepare multi-country project fiche
